

Fire On The Moon

there is no sign of the light's only darkness there is no sign of the life I don't like it my eyes can't see, I remember direction show me the way to discover connection

I must be careful I know the fire on the moon I must be careful it could arrive at soon there are some shadows that want to approach me what can i do they just try to conceal me and now the day seems to fly what about me and i run away from the silence around me

I must be careful I know that fire on the moon eyes in the sky now they looking now another can read my mind so where are the fires of the moon ? look at the mirror 'coz I can break it time after time I try to write on the walls the name that I'm looking for time in this night I'll call your name 'cause I need protection on new direction with your affection my eyes can't see and so hard to believing another time I can't see all around me but now there's nothing to leave to survive too late to save us they come from the fire
